Six of them fell. As the throng shricked in hor ror, and fought to flee, the lifting smoke from the bomb showed the archduke and duchess sitting upright in their carriage, apparently unharmed. At that moment the Servian youth sprang forward.

Francis Ferdinand managed to remain upright a moment longer and then as the secend shot hit him, he fell back against the cushions of the carriage. So close now that he could almost touch the duchess, the youth continued shooting, the bullets taking effect in the abdomen. Each bullet he fired had hit a vital shopt.

Taken to Palace, Die,

The archduke and the duchess were taken to the palace, but it was seen that they were mortally wounded. They had scarcely been laid on beds when they died.

The peasants threw themselves upor the assassins, whom, but for the intervention of the police and militia, they would undoubtedly have killed on the Archduke Francis' Ferdinand was born in 1863. He married morganatically in 1900 the Countess Sophie Chotek, who had the title of Duchess of Hohenberg conferred upon her October, 1909, and renounced the claim of his issue by her to the throne.
